

Glen appliances introduces 'The Art of Teppanyaki' to Indian Kitchens

Dec, 2013: The pioneer in the world of premium Kitchen Appliances, Glen India now introduces a revolutionary new product in the world of cooking with its efficient Glass Grill GL3033. With grilling surface made of German Ceramic Glass, this compact and stylish appliance is surely going to add life to cooking. Get introduced to a Teppanyaki cooking style which means cooking on a flat bed surface. One can straightaway start cooking sausages, carrots, potatoes, eggplant, corn, green bell peppers on the grill plate and enjoy eating them right away. Teppanyaki allows grilling the vegetables on one side and on the other side fish and simultaneously mixing both to enjoy an exotic grilled fish with vegetables recipe.

Teppanyaki is a Japanese art of cooking and socializing at the same time, thereby enjoying every bit of the flavored savory. Enjoy the view of open kitchen with the Chef cooking amazing chicken, fish shrimps, and lobster and relish them with tongue swirling sauces and garnishing. This Glen glass grill comes in a stainless steel body and a black colored German Schott Ceran (the best ceramic toughened glass available) which is scratch resistant. The elegant finish and compact design makes it an unbeatable match to a kitchen. The outer handles are safe to touch and help in easier operation of the appliance while cooking. It comes with a 12 setting temperature control knob for a better and uniform cooking upto 250 degrees and with 1200 W infrared power. This overcomes the major drawback of traditional grills which often troubled in struggling with flames leaving the food or hand burnt. With the scraper change the position of the food timely to cook it uniformly.

Due to the pore-free and sealed ceramic glass grilling surface, very minimal fat is required. The fat released from meat gets accumulated on the glass; thereby the food gets cooked in its own released oil without adding extra layers to it. Vitamins and minerals are also not drawn out; foods retain their natural flavor and remain juicy and tender. This is very much suitable in preparing low fat and nutritive dishes everyday in minutes. Perfect for any grill appetizer be it French omelet, grilled chicken, paneer tikka, grilled fish etc. This portable grill can be simply kept over a table surrounded with friends and family and allows cooking delectable meals in minutes. Since it emits no flames and one can control the temperature it is never scalding hot and thus makes it 100% safe to use. With its high quality insulation and an efficient designed Carbon Fiber heating element, operation of this appliance is fast and economical. This is a multi-purpose glass grill and well suited for professional use in the catering trade & restaurants, for example in snack bars and cafeterias, and is also exceptional for health minded households.

Convert the stylish dining table into Teppanyaki steakhouses and play the MASTER Chef performing a show for the diners, continuing to introduce new variations and tricks with Glen Glass Grill GL 3033. One might juggle utensils, flip a shrimp tail into his shirt pocket or toss an egg up in the air and split it with a spatula, but one thing is for sure, the fun of social gatherings and the sound of cooking will echo for long in everyone's thoughts. Enjoy
